The 2016 recipient of the Jay B. Nash Outstanding Major Award is Madison Hornung. Madison is a senior at The College at Brockport majoring in physical education and adapted physical education. She has organized numerous events including; a sock sale to raise funds for her cross country team, “Tunnel of Oppression”, a campus wide diversity and inclusion event, she serves as a peer mentor and she is a member of the newly formed Student Leadership Council at Brockport. She volunteers with a number of groups including the Rochester Rookies wheelchair and ambulatory track and field team, a gymnastics program for children with autism, and the American Heart Association Hoops for Heart Basketball Tournaments. In service to NYS AHPERD, Madison is the Future Professionals Section President, she assisted in organizing the Follow the Leader program at the state conference and helped to coordinate the recent Future Professionals Leadership Development Conference. She is a member of the Diversity Task Force and she has presented and presided at NYS AHPERD and Central Western Zone Conferences. One of her professors said, “Madison is a role model for other students because she is conscientious, prepared and goal oriented.” Another said “The passion that Madison brings to her classes and all of her endeavors inspires others around her to bring their best effort. Her awards and accolades are well-deserved and impressive, but it is her work ethic, passion and humility that set her apart.” President Rose it is my honor to present to you, our 2016 recipient of the Jay B. Nash Outstanding Major of the Year Award Madison Hornung.
