The 2016 recipient of the 2016 Jay B. Nash Outstanding Major Award is Nicholas Faulds. Nick is a senior at The College at Brockport majoring in physical education with a concentration in adapted physical education. Nick has participated in numerous events including, the College at Brockport Leadership Development Conference, Camp Abilities Bottle Drive fundraiser, West Side Challenge Tennis Program and the United States Association for the Blind, Beep Baseball World Series. He has been a Residence Hall Assistant and he was a student representative for the Learning Environment Enhancement Program. He served as a liaison for students in the adapted physical education program, through the Department of Kinesiology, Sport Studies and Physical Education Leadership Council, he was a teaching assistant for the elementary methods in physical education class and was a swim and gym group leader. Nick also had the opportunity to present at the 2016 Central Western Zone Conference.

One of his professors said, “In and out of the classroom, Nick demonstrates an abundance of intellectual curiosity along with very high standards. He interacts, questions, ponders and thinks. The aforementioned traits, coupled with an outstanding work ethic and excellent organizational skills, make for an individual who consistently motivates himself and others. Nick combines a tremendously altruistic nature with excellent pedagogical skills. He brings tremendous passion and intelligence to each and every endeavor he is involved in.” President Rose it is my honor to present to you, our 2016 recipient of the Jay B. Nash Outstanding Major of the Year Award, Nicholas Faulds.
