The 2017 recipient of the Jay B. Nash Outstanding Major Award is Ceire Corcoran.

Ceire is a senior at Adelphi University majoring in health and physical education. She is very involved in community service, volunteering with groups that support our veterans, breast cancer awareness, and feeding the hungry. She is also a health awareness public speaker, volunteering her time to address topics such as the dangers of eating disorders and addictions. She has coordinated and participated in events such as Wheelchair Basketball, Autism Walk and Hoops for Heart. In service to NYS AHPERD, Ceire serves as president of the Future Professionals Section and, therefore, is a member of the Executive Council. She has presented at the Nassau and Suffolk Zone conferences and the NYS AHPERD conference. At the 2017 SHAPE America convention, Ceire received the Ruth Abernathy Award. She also received the Robert Pate Scholarship at the Eastern District Conference. One of her professors wrote, “Ceire is bright, energetic, and extremely dependable; good natured and pleasant, but assertive. She is a giving person who is an extremely hard working and dedicated student, yet she consistently seeks to learn and improve. To say that Ceire is simply outstanding is an understatement.” President Wolfe, it is my honor to present to you our 2017 recipient of the Jay B. Nash Outstanding Major of the Year Award, Ceire Corcoran.
